We are currently looking for quality people across a variety of disciplines. If you relish a challenge, thrive under pressure and are committed to pursuing a career in Custom Installation, then we want to hear from you.

Please email your CV to careers@the-ivy-house.com together with your current salary aspirations.

Engineering

Installations Technician

The Ivy House is looking for Technicians and Installation Specialists, with several years experience of building services or electrical installations. With no two projects the same, excellent technical and problem solving skills are essential as well as the ability to work with other team members and on-site trades to complete projects on time and within budget.

A hands role, which requires you to interpret specifications, install cabling and other infrastructure, across a variety of technologies, bringing together home cinema & multi room audio solutions, along with television, satellite, lighting, networking and communications, security, & other bespoke systems into a unified, custom solution.

Qualified Electricians, Security systems and CCTV installers, Telecomm technicians, Building services specialist and other related fields - installation of electrical sub systems and solutions - are all ideally suited to this role.
